

Key Benefits

The proposed development will deliver a series of key benefits:

- Provide opportunities for people to interact with the unique Cheshire Archives collections more easily, helping people to celebrate their personal and communities' histories
- Provide more space for activities and programmes to bring the service and the county's rich history to a wider audience
- Act as a base for activities which will take archives to people across Cheshire
- Create improved spaces for staff and volunteers to work with collections to make them more accessible and allow increased numbers of volunteers.
- Meet current standards for the long-term preservation of Cheshire's unique and irreplaceable archives recording the history of the county over the last 900 years
- The delivery of a high quality development, which will have a positive impact on the visual appearance of Crewe town centre.
- The efficient use of a previously developed site.
